Webinar on ESG Risk – Learnings from the Banks with Andries Schutte

As global stakeholders intensify their focus on environmental, social, and governance (ESG) performance, financial institutions are emerging as both catalysts and case studies in the ESG transition journey. This webinar, "ESG Risk: Learnings from the Banks", explores how leading banks have navigated the complex shift from ESG intention to execution. Drawing on real-world strategies, governance structures, and disclosure practices, we will unpack key lessons from the sector—ranging from integrating ESG risk into credit assessment and capital allocation to tackling data gaps and aligning with regulatory frameworks like the ISSB and EBA Guidelines. Join us to uncover what the banks have done right, where challenges remain, and what these insights mean for your organization's ESG roadmap

The webinar on August 27th with Andries Schutte is free!

This 90-minute session includes a live Q&A, giving you the chance to engage directly with ESG experts and banking leaders. If you work in banking, insurance, investment management, ESG consulting, regulatory bodies, or are involved in risk and actuarial functions, this webinar is designed for you. You'll gain practical insights into how leading financial institutions are navigating ESG challenges and aligning with evolving global standards.
